CARPENTER'S SON ASSAULTS SOCIETY WOMAN; KILLS HER

Richard Ivings Dragged her From Street to Lot Behind Father's Shop

OUTCRIES CAUSED HIM TO STRANGLE

Bound Copper Wire About her Throat and Choaked Out her Life While he Fulfilled his Terrible Design

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—With the finding this morning of the body of Mrs. Bessie Hollister, a choir singer and prominent in society, wife of Franklin Hollister of the Printing House of Hollister Bros., in a vacant lot in the rear of a carpenter shop on Belden avenue, the police are confronted with another murder mystery.

A copper wire of the size used for telephones was about Mrs. Hollister's neck. She had been strangled to death apparently, or the strang used in dragging the body.

Mr.s Hollister left her home at 9:30 yesterday morning to sing at the funeral of a friend. She signified her intentions of doing some shopping first and had plenty of money.

The last trace was at a florist's where she bought flowers for her friend's casket. It probably was not suicide. The police advance the theory of murder for robbery:

The police say Richard Ivins, who reported the finding of the body of Mrs. Hollister in the lot back of his father's shop, has confessed that he seized the woman as she passed the shop at 6:45 last night and dragged her in and ravished her. Her outcries became so loud he strangled her.

POLICE CALLED OUT TO QUELL JUVENILE STRIKE

From a letter addressed to The Tribune, what might have compared favorably with Russian strike horrors was averted this morning by the presence of three of "the finest" with poised billies and scowling countenances. In fact the awe in which the child holds the blue-coated, brass buttoned, star-spangled minion of the law, was all that succeeded in averting another serious strike. As the strikers made no hostile demonstration there was no firing—no bullets exchanged—which is indeed fortunate under the circumstances. That the wealthy owner of the Morning Chronicle is determined to have nothing which smacks of Rusisan unrest in his office is made evident by the following self explanatory communication:

Editor Tribune: We, the Morning Chronicle carrier boys, have formed a strike. We carrier boys want our wages raised. Our circulation manager has made a heavy penalty on us if we are not on time. If we are late after 5:15 a. m., we are docked. We gave him notice until Saturday and he was down Friday morning and he said he would make it all right. When we came down this morning there was three policemen and our manager dock them five cents every time they were very mean. We carriers shall not give in until everything is settled.

(Signed) STRIKER.

We've always had an idea that the way to deal with these little carrier boys who leave their cosy beds at 4:30 in the cold winter morning to walk several miles with a bundle of papers for a dollar a week, was to dock them fifive cents every time they were a minute late, to dock them another five cents everytime a customer failed to get his paper, etc. By this method the publisher gets on the good side of the boy, and at the end of the week—if the usual number of papers on his route have been stolen or tossed away by the wind,the energetic little fellow has all of ten or fifteen cents coming for his week's work. As we say, we've always had this idea about dealing with those ferocious carrier boys, and if they are late often enough, and miss enough customers so that the "docks" amount to more than their wages, make them pay the office the deficit, for the privilege of working. Then if they object to these Baer-coal-mine-methods, call in the police force to quell the unrest, and if that is not sufficient call upon the militia, or let the police use their riot guns; for after reading of Russian bloodshed, we must have no strikes here.

However, we have a friendly suggestion by which the Chronicle may profit, viz: hire men in their places. There are plenty of men who need work, and the ordinary man wouldn't expect more than $20 per week for this early-hour service. With the "fines" possible perhaps the expense could easily be reduced to 50 cents per week, per man.

As a matter of fact it is a great educator to the boy to carry around such a bundle of information every morning, and we do not know but what we are of the opinion that the boys should consider the work a regular literary course and should induce their parents to pay the publishers instead of expecting the publishers to pay them.

TSCHARNER RENAMED

THRESHING CO'S. NEW DIRECTORS

Condition of La Crosse Concern is Most Satisfactory

The stockholders of the La Crosse Threshing Machine company held their annual meeting at the factory last Monday and elected the following directors:

Jos| Boschert, Frank E. Smith, Wm. Luening, C. C. McConville, S. L. Bovee, Jr.

The meeting was a very satisfactory one for the stockholders present who endorsed the methods used by the present management and the work that had been accomplished. Mr. Bovee as the new director became interested in the goods when they were shown at the La Crosse Inter-state fair and being a man of 18 years' experience in this kind of work called on the company desirous to secure some stock with the result that he cast his lot with the La Crosse company and has assumed the management of the sales department. Mr. Bovees' large experience should insure success in disposing of the company's product. The new separator has become very popular with farmers and threshers wherever shown or used. The company now has sixteen machines on hand for this year's trade and expects to build forty or fifty more for this season's trade which will make a very good showing for the new company.

After the annual meeting the directors had a meeting and elected the following officers:

President—Jos. Boschert.

Vive president—F. E. Smith.

Secretary and manager of sales department—S. L. Bovee.

Treasurer—Wm. Luening.

Superintendent of construction—C. C. McConville.

TYPHOID FLOWS IN WATER PIPES

Dr. Morrison, Former Co. Physician Calls Artesian Water Impure

That the water which at present is flowing through the artesian water system of the city is unfit for drinking purposes and is so impure that it may cause an epidemic of typhoid fever in the city, is the contention of Dr. M. Morrison.

Dr. Morrison has made an examination of the water and finds that instead of artesian water it is largely surface water, containing at times germs of a dangerous sort. Rotting of the pipes at the well which allows the entrance of surface water is responsible for the impurities in the water, and the council last night took the first step toward installing a new system. In the opinion of physicians citizens would do well ro refrain from drinking the water while it is in its present condition.

SALZER DONATES A PARK

Offers Land to the North Side

AT NORTH OF CAUSEWAY

Gift Proposed in Letter to Mayor Torrance Today

Following the rejection of the proposition originally made for a north side park, in which opposition was raised on the ground that the price asked for the site, $18,000, was too much, and that other improvements were in greater demand, Henry A. Salzer today wrote Mayor Torrance offering to donate a site for a park. The mayor will present the matter at the proper time.

The site offered is a plot of between five and ten acres, situated on the east side of the causeway this side of the Monitor Brewery. It is rectangular in shape, and presents a strip some 300 feet wide with a frontage of several blocks. It affords room for an extensive park, and offers an opportunity to beauty the causeway over a long stretch.

Mr. Salzer's proposition is that the city take the property and fill in the spots at its leisure. When this is accomplished, he agrees to lay out the park and plant the trees and to make it an attractive spot.

When interviewed this afternoon, Mr. Salzer said: "It is true that I have offered the city a site for a park. The north side needs a park, and a park at this point would serve the double purpose of furnishing a place of recreation and of beautifying the causeway. I stand ready to do my part if the city cares to take advantage of the offer."

It is pointed out that in this way the park will cost the city nothing, as the city can dump clean refuse there at its leisure, and the filling will thereby be accomplished without expense.

The BURIED TALENT.

(By Fanny Fan.)

An ink-stained page a thought of mine expressed.
I saw 't was great, and felt my soul at rest.
The thought was passing good, the motive bad;
'T was self-appreciation made me glad.

'T was done, forgot! Swift from my careless hand
The paper fluttered to a far-offff land,
And there some vagabond who saw the hint
Of merit, gave the thing to print;
A dry-eyed sinner read, and Conscience swept
Away the flood gates of his soul—he wept, and slept.
Next day he journed forth to preach and pray,
And led a thousand to The Narrow Way.

The years swept on; from o'er the distant sea,
By zig-zig flights, the tale came back to me.
And proud, I rose and cried, "My works, O God!"
Swift back in answer fell the chastening rod.
"Vain! sinful!" So the voice of Heaven said,
"You wrote, and cast away! By CHANCE another read.
Let vanity depart! Be it thy goal
To conquer thine own erratic soul!"

DOG POISONERS AT WORK AGAIN

Dog poisoners are again at work in the territory north of Vine street, where numerous dogs have been killed in this manner during the past two months.

The latest victim of the poisoners was the handsome sheherd dog belonging to William Collins, proprietor of the Northwestern hotel, opposite the court house. The animal was playing about in front of the hotel yesterday when suddenly it began to stagger and finally fell. Its hind legs seemed to be paralyzed and the animal was unable to drag itself to the hotel. Employes fed the dog a quantity of lard to kill the effect of the poison, which was discovered to be arsenic, and today Mr. Collins seemed hopeful that the dog would recover.

WRECKS THAT STREW THE WAKE OF A BUSTED TRUST

"LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN—A "Liverymen's Protection Association."

Dear Editor Tribune: I dreamed I read an "ad" like this in your paper, and it set me hurrying in my sleep through a wild hunt. A detective came to me and asked me to go with him to John Palmer's livery to get a rig. "You're a right lively looking youngster," he said, "and I can use you in my business."

Palmer started to hitch one of his fancy roadsters to a toppy turnout, but the fellow wouldn't have it. "No hosses in this race, John; trot out the airship. I'm a Pinkerton and I'm going in search of the Liverymen's Protective Association. Where you think it went to, John?"

"Dunno," said John Palmer. "It quit sudden like, and I remember it wan't the only thing that quit about that time."

That was deep, but the detective seemed to understand, and laughed inordinately. We all climbed in and away we went; we shot up like a rocket about a thousand feet, and then we took a bee line for the gulf at a pace that would make Dan Patch think he was running backward. "I conclude the Liverymen's Protecting association has 'gone south,'" explained the detective. By and by it got light, and we began to see things. We noticed a flower bedecked line of carriages wheeling at a comfortable jog below us in a pretty street. The wagons bore big placards on which we read in big black type, "Hired For $1 Each."

"That's a weddin'," said John Palmer.

And pretty soon we saw another procession, moving slow and all in black. It also was tagged, "Hired For $1 Each."

"That's a funeral," said John Palmer.

A little further on we looked down and saw a man tearing his hair and biting the air with his froth-covered mouth. A crowd of officers and women was chasing him and apparently afraid they would catch him.

"That's an undertaker. He's crazy because a man died and he couldn't get a rake-off on the hearse and funeral carriages," said John Palmer.

But it wasn't all plain sailing. All of a sudden we ran into a fog on the top of Lookout Mountain. The mist got in our eyes and the sky pilot couldn't steer.

"Bang! Rip! Smash! Rumpty-dump-dump! Thud!"

One of those "dull and sickening thuds," too. We lit all spraddled out on a shapeless mass of rubbish.

"Now what in the name of heavens is that," demanded the exasperated detective. I passed, but John Palmer spitting out a yard of canvas sail and picking the splintered sheet steel from his hair, put us wise.

"We run into the wreck of the Horse-shoers' Union," said John Palmer.

We borrowed an airship, and John Palmer and I proposed to go right back home, and when the detective objected, we tied him to the mast and let her jump. Over near Chattanooga we caught sight of a rubbish dump that John Palmer said was the Buggy Washers' union, and way to the left was the remains of an awful smash-up. "That's it, that's it," shouted John. "That's the Protective Association. They run smash into that big rock that looks like 'Fair Prices.' And over there to the northard, what's that?" continued John.

I saw some vague outlines that looked to me like a trunk that had never been unpacked. "That," said John Palmer, "is old—"

But just then I woke up.

AT THE THEATRES

From the Dubuque oJurnal: The Orpheum vaudeville company that appeared at the theatre drew a large and appreciative audience. Every member of the company is a finished artist in his particular line, and encore after encore was demanded from each specialty on the program. The Orpheotiscope is a new invention and produces the most realistic pictures ever seen in the city. The Orpheum company changes their entire company, and show every week and are always a welcome visitor to theatre goers. Because their entertainments are conducted in such a refined way ladies and children may attend with the assurance they will not hear or see anything that will offend the most delicate eye or ear, in fact the verdict of all is, how can they give such a show for so small a price of admission.

Will be seen at La Crosse theatre, Jan. 14, 17, 18, 19 and 20th.

There are so many very delightful incidents occurring during the action of "Babes in Toyland," Victor Herbert and Glen McDonough's great musical extravaganza, that one has to see this play, which was the one conspicuous brilliant success of New York, to properly appreciate it. Will be seen at La Crosse theatre Monday, Jan. 15th.

M. W. A. TO GIVE SPLENDID BALL

Grand Masquerade at the Woodman Hall on Jan. 31

La Crosse society will be making history when the annual masquerade ball of the Modern Woodmen of America opens at Woodman hall on the evening of Wednesday, Jan. 31. Camp No. 360, with its friends, will be there and a grand affair is in prospect.

The lodge is one of the healthiest in the state, and its membership is very large. In the past its dances have been leading social attractions, and on this occasion the order has decided to outdo all former efforts. The committees have taken every pains to secure all the essentials such as good music, good floor, free ventilation and enjoyable surroundings. The hall will be beautifully decorated and there will be spared no effort to make the environments such as to attract and please all present.

The securing of Kreutz's La Crosse orchestra to render the music is another feature that will draw attendance, and with throngs of prettily dressed women who chatter and laughter is always profoundly entertaining, the event promises to be a marked social function of the season.

SOCIETY

By ALICE W. WHEELER

There has been a temporary lull in social affairs since the holidays. Most of the entertaining seemed to have been crowded into those two weeks and now we are left lamenting. The students too have returned to the scene of their labors and the visitors have departed for their homes or for "more worlds to conquer," but the theatre is still with us and when there are such attractions on the boards as Tim Murphy, Andrew Mack, "The County Chairman," we need not feel entirely bereft of entertainment. And then too there are the clubs, both social and literary which have renewed their meetings with increased energies and in course of time every one will be in the harness again and society regain its lost footing.

There were several dancing parties on the tapis. The Knights of Columbus opened the week by a reception and dance, which was a brilliant affair. The Young Married Folks gave one of their series of dances and the order of Eastern Star also gave one at Masonic Temple. There were a number of informal companies given for Mrs. Thompson of Minneapolis who is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. U. Jorris. Mrs. McKay entertained at a coffee and card party in honor of her mother.

Cards are out for a reception to be given Friday, by Mrs Lucius C. Colman.

A TANGENT SHOT.

A Subscriber writes The Tribune that he is in favor of the movement for the support of home industries, but adds that were the factories to employ more adult labor at better prices they would enjoy the local support without need of pledges.

It is not our purpose to discuss here the problem of all labor problems—youth at work. It is true that there are factories that are selfish in these matters, and some of them may be right here in La Crosse, On the other hand, it is very often true that the child must starve, or worse, were it not for the work offered by factories. Either way, the old objection holds good that thereby the man who creates and must support a family is deprived of well-paid work. We are not, as a general proposition, at variance with A Subscriber; we cannot solve his problem, nor can he, until the approach of more Utopian times.

But all that A Subscriber says has nothing to do with the purpose of La Crosse people to buy home goods. He intimates that La Crosse factories should be boycotted because they do not hire and fire to suit Good Conscience. Would he boycott La Crosse's child-labor goods to buy the genuine sweat-shop products of foreign cities? Is it any worse here than elsewhere. Is it not true that the conditions he complains of are not nearly so numerous here, not nearly so aggravated as in older and larger cities? We are not perfect, any of us. There are bad manufacturers, and bad men working for manufacturers; there are good manufacturers and good workmen. La Crosse has its relative share of each, and the only way to get rid of then is to starve them to death. Boycott our factories! Then, in a little while, there will be no factories, and no employes; and there will be no "jobs," even for the children.

Now we are so optimistic as to believe that the more support the factories get the more wages they will pay.

A BEAR AND A CUB.

C. A. Sterling was robbed. Mr. Sterling is a great, big bear. He just naturally picked out the smallest boy in the hotel and charged him with the crime. He had the boy "thrown in," and he bullied and browbeat him until he confessed. The boy had mailed the money to a fictitious name, knowing the letter would remain in the postoffice thirty days, and hoping it would all "blow over" by that time. A genius, sure enough!

Well, the boy confessed, and "dug up." No boy ever had a better chance to break into the reform school. And what did that ugly, overbearing Landlord Sterling, who makes the earthquake quake and looks the devil out of countenance, do?

Ans. (1)—"Used abusive language to the boy, and probably booted him."

Ans. (2)—"Prosecuted the boy and sent him to the reformatory."

But he did nothing of the sort. He gave the boy a lot of good advice and a ten dollar bill, and made him promise that he never would "go wrong" again, and sent him on his way. "Jails make criminals outer children," said the landlord.

Well, it isn't of particular importance; it was just a "bell-hop," anyway.

TALKATIVE "HANK."

Henry H. Rogers will "answer." He has decided to "humor" the law. However, he serves notice on the court that it shall not have the last say, but that he will appeal from its decision.

"Hank" must have a presentiment that the court is going to decide against him. It probably will do so, for courts are getting more courageous daily, under the patronage of men who never have feared to tell the truth about monopoly.

But it was not necessary for "Hank" to tell the court that he would appeal. This threat was not excusable on any ground. He has the same right to appeal that is enjoyed by men who have less than $1,000,000,000, and his edclaration of intention to do so could not in any way affect his rights in the matter. He either wanted to be as insolent to the honorable court as he knew how, or he wanted to serve notice on the state of Missouri that he would tangle the case up in an appeal that would delay indefinitely any final results.

The mills are grinding slowly, but "there'll come a time."

The information that the C. M. & St. P. railway company has decided upon extensive improvements in La Crosse, which was published exclusively in The Tribune, is good news. The destiny of this city is to become a manufacturing center, and everything that increases its railroad equipment and traffic facilities goes to make more possible the final upbuilding of a great commercial and industrial city.

SORES-ULCERS THE BLOOD DISEASED -SYSTEM DISORDERED

When a Sore or Ulcer is slow in healing it is the best evidence of a diseased condition of the blood and a disordered system. They show that the bodily impurities, which should pass off through the natural channels of nature, are being retained in the system from some cause. The blood absorbing the waste matters becomes steeped in poison which finds an outlet through the Sore or Ulcer, keeping it inflamed, painful and festering. As the blood constantly discharges its poison into these places, they eat deeper into the surrounding flesh and tissues, growing larger and more offensive in spite of all the sufferer can do, until the entire health is affected. Washes, salves, powders and such treatment are desirable for the reason that they are cleansing and also help to relieve the pain, but they are in no way curative. The blood is filled with poison, and until it is removed the sore cannot heal. S. S. S. is the only cure for these evidences of impure blood. It goes down to the root of the trouble and cleanses the circulation of all poisons and impurities. S. S. S. enriches the blood and reinvigorates the different members of the body so that the impurities and waste matters can pass off as nature intended. Then the discharge ceases, the sore scabs over, new flesh is formed, and the place heals permanently. ok on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice you need without charge

I have not words strong enough to praise your great medicine. I had a sore on my left temple for years. It would itch, burn and bleed, and I could not get it to heal. After taking S. S. S. awhile it began to discharge, and when the poisonous matter was out it healed. this was about ten years ago and I have never seen any sign of it since.

Our Piano Clearance Sale

Affords Remarkable Opportunities for the Thrifty and Economical Piano Purchaser.

Note the Following Reasons Which Make This Sale Compulsory

Our experience in handling large stocks of Pianos and Organs—throughout Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa—has taught us the art of discrimination and the necessity of closing out Pianos that become shop worn—Pianos that are cancelled styles of many of the manufacturers, preceding years' designs—as well as every piano returned to us from renting regardless of profit or their original cost and to merely state they are bargains is putting it mildly.

These pianos which entitle the purchaser to large discounts are not only standard made but instrumentally reliable and constitute a safe piano investment.

Beautiful San Domingo, Burl Walnut, English Golden Oak and Circasian Walnuts are among the elegant woods used in case construction of these magnificent instruments and while we are selling this stock at cost and in some instances less than cost, we are by so doing averting a much larger loss a little later on by not carrying such pianos over and endeavoring to sell them at their original price during this year.

Housecleaning is a necessity adjunct in every establishment and this clearance sale affords everyone looking for a genuine piano bargain an opportunity they cannot afford to miss.

Choose the make of your piano as you would respect the author in selecting a good book.

Note the following well known brands of Pianos that are to be sold at cost and less than cost during this great weeding out process now in progress at our store:

Chickering, Kimball, Vose, Sohmer, Conover, Cable, McPhail, Starr, Kingsbury, Whitney, Arion, Lester, Shoniger, Bailey, Vough, Crown, Hinze, Wellington, Kohler and Campbell, Schaffer, Price & Teeple, Cable, Nelson.

—And Many More—

PRICES FROM $145 UP

Piano Players From $85 up.
Organs From $12 Up.

Seeing is believing and here at our store is where your eyes will serve you best.

Every piano is marked in plain figures and a card giving the history of the piano since it left the factory is on each instrument. To the bargain hunter this opportunity will prove a rare treat, and any piano sold during this sale will not only take with it the manufacturer's guarantee but our personal guarantee as well.

This proposition should cause the most skeptical to abandon further hesitancy and secure for themselves a piano of the greatest dependability at a great saving.

We Ernestly Invite All Who Are Interested in the Purchase of a Piano to Come in to Our Store at Once and Ascertain if We Have Not Something to Please Them in This Bargain Stock.

TO THE MOTHERS OF LA CROSSE BABIES

Tell us what your babies say! We are never nearer to nature than in childhood. There is deeper pathos, truer humor in the mind of the tots that are just awakening to a realization that there are great and wonderful things about them, unfathomed mysteries to solve, good and bad and right and wrong, than there is in those whose age has brought one enlightenment—an understanding of the extent of human ignorance of those things which the all-confiding babes expect alwise parents to solve.

Thousands of fathers and mothers laugh and weep in their homes over the joys and sorrows, the perplexing questions and the unique deductions of their little ones. Why not share these rich experiences of life with others. What keener or cleaner merriment can you give the world than a hearty laugh over the baby's sayings and questions? What richer emotions can you stir than those that come with the little tragedies of the nursery? Thank Heaven, there is more fun than tears in it all.

That this fund of good things may not be born and forgotten within four walls of the home, The Tribune has decided to establish a feature in its Saturday editions to be known as "Highchair Philosophy." We ask parents to contribute to it the bright saying and touching episodes of the child-life of their homes. Names will not be published without the consent of the parents. Help us to enable grown-ups to learn wisdom from the innocence of the nursery by telephoning or writing these little stories to Mrs. A. M. Brayton, 1122 Main street; New 'phone 814-C.

HIGH CHAIR PHILOSOPHY.

The pretty new Tea Store calendar inspired one little miss with pleasant dreams. She dreamed that the sweet little girl in the blue ribbon swing "got alive and was a really little girl, and she went to the phone (a few feet away) and said 'Hello!' to me, and asked me if I wanted some of her flowers, and she sent me those lovely roses right through the telephone."

SANTA'S SECTION MAN.

Just before the holidays, a little girl, hearing the horn toot, and seeing a passing chimney sweep, inquired why people had their chimney cleaned. Upon being told of the real cause, she disappointedly remarked, "Oh, I supposed it was so Santa Claus could get down better!"

THERE CAME ANOTHER GREATER.

One little mischief, who was looking over her Christmas books with her mama, and a fine copy of "Buster Brown" in particular seemed to recent the double enjoyment the mama was getting out of it. After a few moments of silent contemplation, she said, "Well—anyway, Buster was more mischiever than I am."

A little four year old boy who attended Ringling's circus, was having the customary good time, until he came to the elephants, When he began to scream and cling to his aunt's skirts. They had to pass on quickly, but the attraction of the three rings did not serve to remove the worried and frightened look from his face. When he got home, he said to his mother, "Who made those awful animals? I am sure the devil must have for God never would have made them!

At Thanksgiving time a La Crosse teacher was asking her pupils what they were most thankful for. One smart boy replied that he was thankful that he was not a turkey.

AN APPEAL

To the Manhood of La Crosse Men

For months THE TRIBUNE has been conducting a campaign to promote the support of La Crosse manuafctories by urging all loyal citizens to buy goods made in La Crosse wherever and whenever they are to be had on even terms with goods shipped here from foreign factories. It is an unfortunate fact that all of us are in the habit of neglecting this important duty. We do it because we are thoughtless; every man of us would buy a La Crosse article that is as good as a foreign-made article sold at the same prices, IF WE ONLY THOUGHT. The Tribune proposes to make every man in La Crosse THINK.

Why We Should Always Think

If La Crosse has a great future, it is as a MANUFACTURING CENTER. The sawmills and the Wisconsin pine forests made La Crosse. But the pine forests are gone, and the sawmills are gone, and most of the lumbermen are gone. Those who remain have wealth accumulated in a lifetime of industry, and they want to invest it. They would prefer to invest it in La Crosse, but they will not do so extensively unless they recognize a purpose on the part of the people of La Crosse to support the establishments that are started here. Neither will the millions of outside capital seeking investment come here without the encouragement of HOME SUPPORT. In short, La Crosse canno be anything great except a manufacturing center, and it cannot become a manufacturing center unless its people invite investment in factories by supporting their factories.

It Is Up to You

Do YOU live in La Crosse? Do YOU expect to CONTINUE to live in La Crosse? If you do, you are vitally interested in everything that will build up La Crosse. Nothing will build this city up as will home patronage of home goods. The Tribune has begun a crusade which it believes will within one year increase the home market for home-made goods FIFTY PER CENT. That is a lot to say. We say it because we believe in YOU. We believe that once YOU become impressed with the importance of doing so, you will DEMAND home-manufactured goods. Who are YOU?

Are YOU a capitalist? An investor? If so, YOU know that a popular purpose to buy home-made goods means success to La Crosse factories whose successes MUST radiate success to every man who owns a dollar's worth of property here, or is engaged in business here, or earns salary or wages here.

Are YOU a merchant? If so you know that support of home goods means more factories, more employes, more patrons of the retail stores, more sales, more profits, more prosperity. It means enhanced values of your real estate; it means a bigger bank account and an expansion of your business.

Are YOU a salary or wage earner. If so you know that home buying of home goods means more employment, higher average wages, increased in value of your home if you own one, greater general prosperity in which you are a stockholder.

What Can You Do?

You can make up your mind to do something, and DO it. We ask YOU to fill out and sign the pledge that accompanies this article, and mail it to The Tribune. We guarantee you that this will HELP. "Every little bit helps." Think what it would mean were 1,000 men of La Crosse to sign this pledge, and KEEP IT! WE KNOW that at least 5,000 La Crosse men will sign it and keep it. It is easy enough, and we know that YOU will do this little bit for La Crosse. WAIT A MINUTE! This means YOU. And NOW is the time.

Get your friends to sign this pledge also. See to it that you'r influence is exerted in a good cause. Write a letter telling what you think of the work, and suggest to us new ideas in carrying it out. Address all letters and pledges to

City Builders' Pledge

I hereby pledge my support to the movement for the support of HOME factories. I will buy La Crosse made goods wherever they compete in quality and price with foreign products; I will buy of home retailers in preference to foreign mail order or department houses; I will give preference to home jobbing houses; I will endeavor to induce my neighbors and friends to do the same.

NORTH SIDE PARK PROJECT DIES

By a bare majority of one vote the common council last night killed the the north side park proposition. It required a three-fourth vote to pass the ordinance bonding the city for $18,000 for the proposed improvement and the final vote was 14 to 6, the aldermen voting as follows:

Ayes—Ald. Bacheller, Keller, Houska, Schulze, Emery, Foerster, Valentine, Rehfuss, Grover, Rose, Lang, Boyle, Winters, Muenzenberger—14.

Noes—Ald. Withee, Smith, Jojade, Palmer, Hirshheimer, Downs—6.

Opposition of two north side aldermen aided by a lack of enthusiasm in any quarter over the proposition and a large vote vote against the improvement in the last municipal election on the north side, killed the measure. Several aldermen who voted for the bonds last night arose before the vote was taken to state that they only favored the measure because a majority of the voters voted for it in the election.

The council refused to direct the board of public works to repair the macadam on La Crosse street from West avenue to the cemetery gate at the expense of the city.

The committee on streets and alleys reported unfavorably upon a petition to have a billboard located outside the fire limits removed. The committee was of the opinion that the council had no jurisdiction in the matter inasmuch as the bill board is located upon private property.

A petition from business men of the city requested that proceedings against the violation of the smoke ordinance recently arrested be adjourned, pending an investigation by a committee of the council, was adopted.

Stephen Kaiser was re-elected janitor of the city hall by an unanimous vote. Mr. Kaiser has served six years and the vote of the council voiced the sentiment that he had served the city faithfully and efficiently.

A petition was presented against enforcing the ordinance compelling the direct connection of eaves troughs with sewers, the remonstrance setting forth that the sewers are not of sufficient size to handle the beg flow of water during heavy rains or thaws. The matter was referred to the sewer committee with instructions to investigate.

The board of public works was instructed to take no further action toward removing the warehouse of the Listman Mill company located on the public landing until after the February meeting. In the meantime the city attorney will investigate the matter.

Street Improvements.

Vine street from Campbell road to Losey boulevard was recommended for grading.

Other resolutions recommending special street improvements as follows were referred:

Brick pavement on Fourth street from King to Cass.

Macadam on Jackson street from West avenue to State road coulee.

The railroad committee was authorized to meet with the officers of the street railway some time in the near future and confer regarding the proposed street railway extensions. Alderman Keller was appointed on the committee to fill a vacancy.

The council adopted a resolution exempting all ministers from payment of personal property tax.

Alderman Keller, chairman of the streets and alleys committee reported upon a lot of dead proposition which have been piling up in the committee for the past fifive years.

Signs will be placed at each end of the bicycle path on the causeway to keep teams off.

Every alderman was present at last evening's meeting.

MAYOR FAVORS A NEW WELL

Mayor Torrance took the floor during last evening's council meeting to oppose the present system of supplying the city with artesian drinking water.

The mayor has made a thorough examination of the present system and finds serious defects. The wrought iron piping has been so rotted by the flow of artesian water that surface water creeps in and in his opinion it is only a matter of a year or two until an entirely new system must be installed.

A resolution instructing the board of public works to secure plans and estimates for installing a new artesian well was referred to the committee on water.

MISS DEBORAH PASSMORE.

An Able Artist In the Employ of the Government.

In the division of pomology of the department of agriculture, are reproduced in water color studies the choice varieties of fruits that are sent in from all over the country.

Chief of the little corps of artists doing this work for the government is Miss Deborah Passmore, who is widely known for the accuracy and the beauty of her work. Her water color "portraits" of rare apricots, peaches, plums, grapes and various other fruits are not only technically perfect and therefore of value to the scientific world, but they are really works of art. It is remarkable how she succeeds in catching the very texture of the skin as well as the color and form of the fruit. The hard, smooth surface of a winter apple, the fuzzy cheek of a peach, the pebbled grain of a pear—all are so realistically shown that the fruit stands out from the sheet as if one could pick it up. Yet Miss Passmore is a rapid worker, and the files of the division contain portfolios filled with the output of her brushes. Throughout the department and in the fields where her work has long been recognized as probably the finest that has ever been achieved it excites the greatest admiration and enthusiasm.

Miss Passmore was an artist of unusual ability before she entered the government work and has a large collection of pictures, both in oils and water colors, on the walls of her attractive home. She came to Washington some twenty years ago and established herself as a teacher, having classes composed largely of young women in diplomatic circles. She has been in the department for twelve years, during which time she has acquired the remarkable skill for which she is so well known.—Washington Post.

Children's Second Teeth.

No sooner has a child got its first teeth than it is time to begin to think about the second. The first permanent teeth come when the child is from five to seven, and as they are the four molars which come beyond the last molars of the temporary set they are often mistaken for the first teeth. As soon as they appear the child should be taken to the dentist to see if they are regular in their position.

If the teeth do not come in perfectly even and regular a dentist can remedy defects which it is impossible to change after they have been neglected a few years. The dentist should also be seen even before a first tooth is taken out, as if it is removed too soon the jaw contracts and the tooth which comes in its place is crowded.

Care given to the first set is as important as care to the second, and a soft brush should be used twice a day from the time the child is a baby. Tooth powder is not necessary to keep children's teeth in good order. Rinsing the mouth at night with a little limewater and cleaning often enough with soft water are a better preservative than a dentifrice.

Opposing Labor Savers.

If woman did not oppose the introduction of electricity in the kitchen her work would be easier, is the startling statement made by the writer of "The Electric Housekeeper" in the Technical World Magazine. Says he: "It would be ungallant, certainly unpleasant and possibly dangerous, to make too clear the parallel between the farmer and the average housekeeper. Yet it is a fact that it is harder to introduce a labor saving device in the kitchen than anywhere else. The successful manufacturer goes far afield to find anything which will cut down the labor necessary for the making of his product, but the head of the average private food factory sticks to her old ways and her old appliances with a devotion which goes far toward accounting for the truth of the old proverb that 'woman's work is never done.'

"Not one woman in a hundred thousand has yet begun to realize that the best maid of all work on earth is the little copper wire which brings the electric current into her home for lighting purposes."

THE RETORT OBVIOUS AND DISCOURTEOUS.

Stout and Nervous Lady: "Can you see me across the street, officer?"
Policeman: "Yes, lady! I believe I could see you half a mile off!"

FRIBBLES OF THE DAY.

Detachable Draperies—Sailor Suits For Small Boys—Dainty Shoes.

Quite a number of dressmakers are adopting the expedient of making a detachable drapery or overskirt for the new street gowns. In wet, warm or muddy weather the plain skirt is worn, but for more ceremonial occasions or on colder days it is supplemented with the extra drapery or overskirt.

Mothers who wish their children to appear well dressed should remember that the sailor suit is gaining rather than losing in popularity. A useful winter model shows a galatea cloth in black and white shepherd's plaid, with shield and sleeve insignia done in scarlet. With this is worn a scarlet tie.

CHALLIE SHIRT WAIST.

Dark red, dark blue and brown serge sailor suits are trimmed with white braid and white ornaments.

Among the novelties of the season are dainty gold and silver shoes, which are now worn quite as much as white shoes to accompany the white or colored evening gown. They are made in both kid and satin, and, being by no means expensive, there is no reason why every woman who chooses to do so should not indulge in this latest whim of fashion.

The shirt waist illustrated is a simple and pretty design for challie or any soft material. It is made smart by the long silk tie looped through straps fastened with large buttons.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Frost Makes Fat Turkeys.

"Cold weather makes fat turkeys," said the poulterer.

"Why?"

"Because in a warm fall the ground keeps soft, the vegetation lingers on and the fields are full of worms and bugs. What's the result? The result is that the turkeys from sunrise till dark tramp the tempting fields on long forages, eating the worms and bugs, which thin them, and walking all their soft and fine flesh into tough, stringy muscle. A cold fall, with early frosts and snows, freezes the ground and kills the bugs. Then the turkeys are not tempted to wander. They loaf in the farmyard, gorge an abundance of grain and put on flesh like a middle aged woman at a seashore hotel. But in a warm fall, hunting the irresistible bug, the turkeys do their fifteen to twenty miles regularly and become athletes. For athletic turkeys there is no demand."—Minneapolis Journal.

A Hymn for Today

THY WILL BE DONE

By Charlotte Elliott

CHARLOTTE ELLIOTT (1789-1871), the well known author of "Just as I Am," was the writer of about 150 other hymns. With the possible exception of Frances Ridley Havergal, no other woman has so successfully sung her way into the affections of the people. Popular as this hymn is in the English, it is even more so in the French and German translations. It is known today in almost every modern tongue and sung in every clime, being an especial favorite with mission converts and with all who are subject to persecution for their religious faith.

MY God, my Father, while I stray
Far from my home on life's rough way,
Oh, teach me from my heart to say,
"Thy will be done, thy will be done!"

What though in lonely grief I sigh
For friends beloved no longer nigh,
Submissive still would I reply,
"Thy will be done, thy will be done!"

If thou shouldst call me to resign
What most I prize—it ne'er was mine;
I only yield thee what was thine,
"Thy will be done, thy will be done!"

If but my fainting heart be blest
With thy sweet spirit for its guest,
My God, to thee I leave the rest,
"Thy will be done, thy will be done!"

Renew my will from day to day;
Blend it with thine, and take away
Whate'er now makes it hard to say,
"Thy will be done, thy will be done!"

Then when on earth I breathe no more,
The prayer oft mixed with tears before
I'll sing upon a happier shore,
"Thy will be done, thy will be done!"

The "Light" of a Store "Hidden Under a Bushel"

Ceases to be a Light At All

Publicity, which is the light of a store, should not be snuffed out now and then. Some merchants think that to keep this light always burning costs too much--but, for that matter, so do many other things cost too much.

For example: Your store rent is too high--when your business is poor; you have too many clerks--for a dull day. Yet these things don't worry you for a moment when things are moving, everybody busy or overworked--especially your cashiers--and when you wish you had more room, more clerks, more stock.

Of course you never had one of those busy days that was not the result of aggressive advertising. And you never had a blue trade day that did not follow a practical hiding of the publicity light.

"ENTERPRISE IN SPOTS" yields, at best, only spots of prosperity. A steady "store light" of increasing candle power--inches of space used daily--with the "snuffers" and the "bushels" sent to the cellar--and store growth and expansion will come in a measure that will amaze you.

"Out of sight, out of mind," sums up the plight of the occasional advertiser.

"NONE DIE; FEW RESIGN!"

Among these few is not Depew

By August E. Gans.

Please let me announce to the world beginning with the state of Wisconsin, my modest suggestion of a partnership between the famous manufacturer of "57 varieties" and the gentlemen, who is a "director in 79 corporations." I have copyrighted the idea!

What a marvelous combination this joining of 136 bliss-producing soothers of human palates and of pocketbooks, would offer to a grasping multitude!

And then when the world in the irresistible course of events must part forever from the "director of 79 corporations" his pickled preservation by his Pittsburg partner might pay still further tribute to ihs power and worth while a breathing entity.

Moreover, in that unique way Mr. Heintz might add the 58th variety to his unprecedented productions by pickling the "Bowery Peach!"

A few years ago the writer—after nineteen years of fruitless attempts at collecting a "claim"—that is, a "debt"—of about $2,000 from the treasury department, went to Washington in person.

The house committee on claims granted him a hearing, reported his case favorably, and placed it on the "private calendar."

The senate committee on claims, of which Chauncey Depew and "Billy" Mason were members, also gave me an audience, but I was authentically informed that "Chauncey" had "objected" to my statements!

I requested an opportunity to controvert "Chauncey" but I failed of securing another hearing, although I less they gave me the right to speak to them again I would hire a theatre had warned that committee that unand speak "at" them!

They laughed at my threat! But I hired the Lafayette Square opera house with its orchestra, advocated my "lecture," sent each of the members of the senate committee copper engraved invitations and three box-seat tickets, and—I kept my word and lectured.

None of the invited senators had sent their "regrets" or returned the tickets excepting Senator McComas!

None of these "gentlemen" attended my lecture, but while the boxes presented a sort of "yellow-fever" appearance, there were about 600 or 700 people in the parquet.

Returning to Chicago I wrote a preface to my "lecture," in which I complimented my senatorial fellow-citizens on their manners, printed 1,000 copies and distributed them in Washington and elsewhere.

Within three months an anonymous letter from Washington informed me that Attorney General Knox had just decided in a case which was absolutely parallel to mine, that the technical objections of the secretary of the treasury for not paying were wrong, and in my case had been wrong for—nineteen years!

I could not trust my eyes, and requested a copy of Mr. Knox's decision. Four days later I held it in my hands.

I resumed bombarding the secretary of the treasury with epistolary ammunition and within two months I held in my hands a treasury warrant in my favor amounting to $1,966—after, as stated above, nineteen years of a "fight!"

No attorney, congressman, or senator, no influence, no pull had helped me!

"Right" and "Justice" were my attorneys!

But I remembered the Hon. Chauncey Depew's "objections!"

A few days later I presume he received the following letter:

Hon. Chauncey Depew,
New York.

Dear Sir:

In spite of your "objections" to my statements before the senate committee on private claims, I have just counted the money I claimed, as paid me by the treasury department. No one helped me' Now then, Senator, who is a 'peach,' you or I?

Yours truly,
AUGUST E. GANS.

To this moment I have not yet received a reply from the honorable senator and the events of the last few months make me despair of ever having the pleasure.

THE REAL TEST

Of Herpicide Is In Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair vigors may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpicide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
